Subject: Bad settlement

To the lay person it was clear that Microsoft was a monopoly. The findings of fact determined that Microsoft was a monopoly. The trial demonstrated Microsofts propensity to deceive, manipulate and otherwise try to unfairly use the judicial and legislative system in their favor. The proposed settlement does not do nearly enough to protect the consumer and Microsoft competitors from their unlawful acts. It does not adequately punish Microsoft for their previous and continuing bad behavior.

The present settlement should be rejected. We need stronger remedies.
